GREAT PROGRESS ON DITCH.

There were 225 men at work digging the ditch to Trading cove on Thursday and great progress was made, the trench being opened to such a distance at each end that the first part of the work is finished. It will be completed tonight, or surely by Saturday. The two gangs are now getting close together, one crowd being at work to the north and west of the John Manwaring farm, the other to the south and east. The work has been cleared off the field of the Pequot farm where the pipe line will cross. At the pumping station the well is nearly to the required depth and the job of stoning the sides will probably be finished today while the construction of the pumping house can be begun most any time.

Pipes Being Distributed.

Early Thursday morning the three cars load of 1½ inch pipe were received, and the hauling of the pipe to the ditch site is to be held at once.

Quite a load was drawn and laid beside the trench, and the remainder will be carted today. As soon as the second shipment is received it will be distributed along the line, and the laying will be started from both ends. It is possible some of the pipe will be laid today, but it will be undertaken by Saturday.
